

CAKE AUCTION TO FEATURE MEETING

Legionnaires to Devote Proceeds of Sale to "Slush Fund"

A cake of wondrous beauty, as cakes go, will arrive in state and under escort in the municipal auditorium Wednesday evening, about the time members of Joe Quinn post, American Legion, gather for their regular meeting. Throughout the evening the cake in all its three-story sweetness and splendor of glistening white frosting blushing into rose-red and other colors, its ornaments of flower wreath, American flag and a full-masted ship with the dove of peace high perched, will register "Come hither" from a conspicuous place. When all minor matters as mere business have been attended to the all-important question as to which legionnaire may have the cake to have and to hold and to eat will be auctioned.

The cake was given by Mrs. L. D. Lewis, 214 North Tacoma, and proceeds will go to the post "slush fund," as legionnaires with characteristic dislike of sentimentalism unattractively named their fund for relieving distress among veterans and the beneficiaries of which are not announced. "Two veterans are now being maintained in hospitals by the cake," "to see side," as Ring Lardner says, the serious business before the house tonight will be planning for the membership drive January 1 to 15, and for the New Year's military ball at the armory, when General George Col. Ira L. Reeves, Col. Alva J. Miles, Col. P. J. Hurley and Col. J. F. Rooney, will be special military guests. Post Commander R. A. Beard expects to rap the gavel nearly on the desk at 8 o'clock. A report on the forthcoming special New Year's eve edition of the Star-shell will be made by Editor-in-Chief C. A. Borden.

'AMAZON' ARMIES REPEAT CONQUEST OF KANSAS MINES

Continued from page one reached that mine. The women paid no attention to the sheriff, except to get him with head and better. The sheriff said that he would report the rioting to the state officials.

The mob of women appeared again to be without leadership. It assembled, beginning about 4 a. m. at a crossroads. The women came in motor cars and on foot, and the march against the working miners of the central company began at 5 o'clock. Reaching No. 51 mine, the women went into action at once. The men at the mine were ordered to get out. Miners arriving to go to work were seized by the enraged women, most of whom shrieked their commands in foreign tongues. The men's dinner buckets were taken and a bombardment of bread and butter, bacon, jelly, eggs and other victuals was begun. The victuals were begun. The buckets as fast as they were emptied were smashed by the Amazonian rioters.

Coffee compartments were opened and the working miners showered with the liquid intended for their lunch. Two or three of the men resisted the women. They saved their dinner buckets. One miner's watch was taken from him and thrown away. He later recovered it.

Motor cars driven to the mine by the workers were targets of the rioters. One man's car was bombarded with rocks until it was practically filled with them and the top and back demolished.

Practically no damage was done to the company's property.

W. C. Barnhart, mine superintendent, was the only official or employee of the company the women permitted to remain at No. 51.

In the meantime, the election of mine union officials in the district was proceeding today. It was regarded as certain that Alexander Howat and all other "deposed" officials would be re-elected to office.

Word received from Topeka stated that in the absence of Gov. Henry J. Allen from the state, no measures had been taken to hold militia in readiness to be sent into the district if the present outbreaks continue.

GAS TOO VICIOUS FOR MODERN WAR, VICTIMS ASSERT

Continued from page one. "A gas attack is a whiff of hell," said Frank Jarrett of Alva, Ill. "Thank God, if the conference eliminates it from future warfare."

"Gas is too inhuman even for war," Here's hoping the nations outlaw it," said Lewis Albert of Beaver Falls, Pa.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—The American Legion has no definite policy toward the use of poison gas in future warfare, it was stated here today by Harford MacNider, national commander.

MacNider declared America's use of poisoned chemicals as a defensive weapon might come under the league's policy on "adequate defense," but he refused to interpret it so. He added that the legion had never gone "on record on the use of poison gas."

The committee's last resolution before adjournment was to hasten all preparations because of the rapid approach of the day of days. And this is the last word to you. Please send in your contribution to the Empty Stocking fund right now. If you wait until Christmas day to do a Good Samaritan act, someone, many "someones," will go hungry. There are only 11 more days until Christmas and Humane Agent Welch MUST know to how many families

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to destroy it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when re-tiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

he can send Christmas cheer. Oklahoma City is forehanded in her vision for the poor; already she has given over $1,000 for a similar work. Will Tulsa be outstepped by the capital city in this instance, after outdistancing Oklahoma City in everything else?

YOUTH IS TIME TO ACCEPT GOD, SUNDAY FINDS

Continued from page one. "I don't know a thing about music. I can go through gyrations like a windmill and make incantations like a medicine man, but I don't know how to sing. Watch me now, choir, if we're going to put this thing over because my reputation's at stake!"

When the Presbyterians rose as a delegation, the Reverend Billy Ross, too, while the delegation itself cheered warmly. Then there was a call for "Ma" Sunday, and that beloved member of the Sunday party, flushed, radiant and smiling as she always is, stepped to the platform and in a graceful and brief little speech acknowledged the applause and expressed her gratitude at being here again.

Those who went last night, prebaptized for the first time and with the hope, however unconscious, of seeing Sunday in his role as an actor, were disappointed for there was nothing of the actor about him last night. He went straight to the point and he drove the point straight home. With clean cut, sledge hammer blows and with argument after argument clinching his logic he hammered the truth home. Rapt, intense, quiet, that vast sea of upturned faces upon whose comely human faces there was scarcely a ripple throughout the entire sermon save when heads were bowed the tears came, the huge crowd sat for two hours while Sunday held it spell-bound. He stated his facts, then put it up to them. He had told them that youth was the best time in which to become a Christian. He asked for all those who had become Christians before they were 20, before they were 30, before they were 40, 50, 60 to stand. There was one man left standing who had become a Christian after he was 50. There were seven in all that multitude, who had become Christians after they were 50, and 25 after they were 40. All the rest had become members of the church when they were 30.

Sunday made himself clear concerning the destiny of converts at the afternoon service yesterday. He had been discussing the matter of church duty in its relation to new members.

Now Up to Churches. "I'm a good deal like a doctor," he told his audience. "The doctor can bring a baby into the world, but then it's up to somebody else to take care of it. He can't be a wet nurse for it. I've done my level best to make converts and now it's up to the church to take care of 'em. I can't do that."

Special delegations tonight are the Knights of Pythias, telephone company operators, Loyal Women's bible class of the First Christian church, U. M. Compression inner tube company, Kansas & Gulf company employees, Boulder avenue business women, 2,000 Methodist high school girls club, Sand Springs and Drumright, Thursday night the Hoosiers are going to attend in a body and will meet at 8:45 at the Baptist church.

A little tow-headed boy ran off from the nursery at the Baptist church last night and came down to the tabernacle to find his mother. His blue eyes big with fright, his little face pale with anxiety, he stood up on the platform where the ushers had brought him, so that his mother could find him. She quickly came forward and lifted the little boy down from the platform and took him away.

People pressed about Mrs. Sunday after the afternoon and evening services, bidding her welcome and eager to exchange even a brief word with her. To all of them she was unfailingly sweet and gracious. She greeted with especial interest one woman who was attending the meeting at Fort Gibson 14 years ago when Paul Sunday was born. The baby was born just a little while before Reverend Sunday had to leave to go to the meeting and

"do you know," said Ma, with a laugh, "he told folks that the baby had eyes and hair like mine, and he was fair as he could be! He was one excited man!"

William H. Reed, while traveling in the state of Michigan heard Sunday in Detroit, October 8th, 1916. At the close of the meeting he discovered a Canadian half dollar of the mintage in 1911 in the shavings. He laid it aside promising himself that he would give it to Sunday personally whenever he had the opportunity. That opportunity came yesterday and coming to the platform after the afternoon meeting, he gave Sunday the coin. Reed lives at 510 South Guthrie.

Christmas Happy Day for W. T. Methodists

Christmas will be a happy day for the congregation of the West Tulsa Methodist church, for on the afternoon of December 14, the basement of their new church will formally be opened. Over $10,000 has gone into the building so far and the walls are up and the roof on. About $10,000 is needed to make the main auditorium ready for use and to complete the building. Rev. W. C. Clock is pastor.

When a Federal Bureau reminds you that children should not drink coffee or tea—

Why not think of your own health?

The Federal Bureau of Education includes in its rules to promote health among the Nation's school children, the warning that children should not drink coffee or tea.

The reason is well known. Coffee and tea contain drugs which stimulate and often over-excite the nerves, and so upset health.

The harm is by no means confined to children, as any doctor can tell you.

If health is valuable to childhood, it is valuable always. If harm to health should be avoided until bodies grow up, is it worth taking a chance with health when bodies have grown up?

You can have that delicious and satisfying cereal beverage, Postum, with any meal, and be safe—you, and the children, too. There's charm without harm in Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in time) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 30 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow.
